CABLE NEWS OF LOCAL INTEREST

BOSTON.—William Howard Taft in an address said: "We are not fighting the Kaiser and the Prussian military system alone. We are fighting the German people, a people obsessed with megalomania, and the only way we can win is by hitting the German people with a club. They believe there is a German God represented by a German state which can do no wrong."

Moose Potlatch

The Moose lodge will receive an official visit tomorrow night from District Deputy Supreme Dictator Ernest H. Blue who has been at Petersburg for the past two weeks. On invitation a number of Petersburg Moose and their ladies including Dr. and Mrs. Pigg will also be guests of the Wrangell lodge tomorrow evening.

Owing to the fact that a social is to follow the lodge meeting all Moose are requested to meet early. The lodge will be called to order at 7 o'clock.

Sale of Doll Clothes

A sale of doll clothes and candy will be held at the city hall Friday (tomorrow) afternoon for the benefit of the Red Cross. Tea and chocolate with the proper accompaniments will be served from 3 to 5 for the sum of 15c, and it is hoped that as many of the people of Wrangell as possible will patronize the affair.

The idea for this sale originated in the fertile brain of one of a group of children playing together one day last summer. The regular games had failed to interest and the suggestion "Let's have a sale and give the money to the Red Cross" was made and instantly approved by the rest. Gathering up such articles as were available on short notice, a stand was arranged immediately outside of the home of one of the children and a few things sold. The idea grew, and it was decided to hold a regular sale at some later time. With this end in view, the sympathy and services of Mrs. Oscar Carlson were enlisted by the children and a pile of dainty doll clothes was evolved by that efficient lady from the scraps of material that came from everywhere. Interested friends have promised candy and refreshments and the mothers of the little girls will give their assistance in a general way. Patronize the sale and help the Red Cross.

The Redmen's lodge will give a hard times dance on New Year's eve. This will take the place of the big masquerade ball which has been an annual event for several years. The hard times dance will be for the benefit of the Red Cross. A Hoover lunch will be served.

Six soldiers under heavy guard were aboard the Jefferson en route to Camp Lewis where they will be tried by court martial. They are implicated in a plot to destroy the waterworks and other property at Fort Seward. It is expected they will be shot after being court martialed.

The barge Ruby of the Wrangell sawmill which was lost in a storm near Cape Fanshaw three weeks ago and which was found later in Windham Bay, was towed in Tuesday by the tug boat Alaska. The barge is not seriously damaged.

Capt. J. G. Grant delivered an address at the Photoshow Sunday night in behalf of the Big Christmas Drive for the Red Cross.

Presbyterian Church.

Sunday evening, December 23, 1917, at 7:30 P. M.

This will be a Christmas service. Subject: He was here and no doubt will come again. Text: "When the morning stars sang together, and all the sons of God shouted for joy?" Job 38:7 and Luke 2:10-12.

There will be some good music by the young people's class. You are invited to participate in this service, if you love your country's best interests.

Monday evening at 7:30 P. M. there will be a Christmas program, by the Sunday school children, and an offering taken for the benefit of the Red Cross work. Instead of giving presents to each other this year, it was deemed best to make an offering to this work to help the boys in the trenches who are fighting our battles for us. Do you want to have a part in this? Come with your offering. It will make some one glad, if they never know the giver.

Salvation Army

Santa Claus will be at the Salvation Army Barracks Saturday at 2 o'clock and will treat every boy and girl present to some fruit and candy. Adj. Habkirk is anxious that every child should meet Santa Claus and enjoy his visit.

Special and Christmas services will be held in the Salvation Army Barracks on Sunday at 3:30 for the children and at 7:30. "The Manifold Christ" will be the subject for the evening service.

Governor Strong has appointed the following residents of Wrangell members of the Alaska Territorial Council of Defense:

Mrs. W. V. Barron was a passenger to Seattle to spend a few days with her husband whose condition is much worse than when he left here. Mr. Barron will leave Seattle during the holidays for the hot springs at McCammon, Idaho, where it is hoped he will find some relief from rheumatism. Mrs. Barron stated that she expected to be absent from Wrangell about two weeks.

Ludwig C. Berg, the fish buyer of Petersburg, was aboard the Jefferson Saturday en route to Seattle where he will spend the holidays. Mrs. Berg has been outside for some time.

J. F. Chamberlain, S. S. Jacobson and Thos. F. Dryden, Jr., were among the travelling men who were aboard the Jefferson Saturday en route to the States to spend the holidays.

RED CROSS CRISTMAS CAMPAIGN

[Cablegram]

Seattle, Wash.
Dec. 17, 1917.

Mrs. F. E. Bronson,
President Red Cross Chapter,
Wrangell.

This is the first of the big drive. Are you ready and is your district well organized? Mr. R. W. Baxter, vice president Alaska Steamship Company has generously allotted twenty-five dollars to Wrangell Chapter for the special purpose of securing children members. This can be accomplished by paying a portion of each child's membership or otherwise. Draw sight draft for amount on Alaska Steamship Co., Seattle, attaching brief statement of how money was used. We want every man, woman and child in Alaska in Red Cross. Alaska will lead the nation in percentage from present indications. Let's go over the top with a bang.

We read with a thrill about your big gift to Halifax.

T. A. DAVIES,
Campaign Manager Alaska.

RED + CROSS NOTES

The war Council of the American Red Cross is in receipt of the following statement from Secretary of War Baker and Secretary of Navy Daniels.

Secretary Baker and Secretary Daniels wish the people of the country to know that under no circumstances do they want to discourage our good women from knitting or otherwise voluntarily providing through the Red Cross for our sailors and soldiers.

On the contrary both Secretary Baker and Secretary Daniels wish it clearly understood that they greatly appreciate all the voluntary efforts that are being made through the Red Cross to bring comfort to our fighting men, and thank the women of our country for this patriotic work. They request the newspapers to give the widest publicity to this expression.

Owing to Christmas and New Year's coming on Tuesday the Red Cross will meet for sewing on Friday of those two weeks.

SCHOOL NOTES

The upper grades and High School are reading and studying an address on Prussianized Germany delivered by Otto Kahn, a German-American. It contains a great deal of American sentiment, is a fine example of American diction and sets forth clearly the motives which compelled the United States to enter the war.

The school received last week from the Commissioner of Education copies of the song "Loyalty is the Word Today." This song has been adopted by forty-two states and Alaska as a song for the public schools.

"OTHER SOURCES"

Last week Mayor Matheson received an appeal for aid for the Halifax sufferers. The mayor lost no time in bringing the matter before the people of Wrangell, and the next day he cabled the Canadian Club in Seattle that he was mailing a check for $437.

The Juneau Empire, which is an Associated Press paper, the next day contained the following dispatch from Seattle:

SEATTLE, Dec. 14.—Alaska has to date subscribed $1,287 for the relief of the Halifax sufferers, handled through the Canadian Club of this city.

The sum of $650 has been received from Ketchikan; $200 from Anchorage and $437 from other sources.

"Other sources!"

A new name for Wrangell!

Had a representative of the Empire arrived in Wrangell last week and begun soliciting subscriptions he would have imagined that he had gotten into a hotbed of Wickershambites who shared the former delegate's opinion of the Empire. For the time being at least the Empire was non grata in Wrangell.

After responding so liberally to a worthy cause the people of Wrangell surely had reason to resent having their splendid contribution credited to "other sources," just as though there was no such a place as Wrangell on the map.

However, we feel absolutely sure that the publisher of the Empire was not directly responsible for this blunder. We know that the Empire has no desire to hand Wrangell a lemon. The Empire has often cabled to the Sentinel for news from Wrangell and it frequently reproduces items from the columns of the Sentinel giving proper credit.

Every newspaper is to a greater or less degree at the mercy of its correspondents. The Wrangell Sentinel is not a member of the Associated Press. The Sentinel and the Empire get their news from different sources, and this may have something to do with "other sources."

It would be preposterous to suppose that when the secretary of the Canadian club furnished the press representative in Seattle with a list of the donations from Alaska that he wrote "other sources" instead of Wrangell.

The Empire has been victimized. Innocently and unconsciously it has been put in an unfavorable light by a correspondent who was small enough to show his petty spite by making a ridiculous attempt to snub a town whose big hearted people responded to a call of distress with the largest subscription in proportion to population of any city in Alaska.

CAUTION TO PACKERS OF SCOTCH HERRING

F. J. Hayward, of Vancouver, B. C., who has been handling considerable Alaska Scotch-cure herring this year, recently sent out a letter cautioning packers as to the need for care in putting up the fish. He says:

"I should like the herring packers of Alaska to understand that if they take care, as advised by the U. S. Bureau of Fisheries experts, and pack this herring as it should be packed, they are always assured of a steady market, war or no war. It is essential that care be taken, and especially so in the initial year of packing. Nothing will hurt Alaska more than to have a few individual careless packers put inferior goods on the market. They will do themselves no good, and hurt the efforts of the U. S. Bureau of Fisheries and also affect the price of the Alaska Scotch herring. It stands to reason that on a new article a good impression in the first place inspires confidence on behalf of the buyers. It must also be taken into consideration that the market is a very long way from Alaska, and this year the buyers have to more or less trust to the judgment of their representatives who in turn have to see that no inferior packed goods are dumped on the market."—Pacific Fisherman.

Value of Cottage Cheese.

Cottage cheese preparations make appetizing and nutritious additions to the dietary. The food value of cottage cheese is high. It contains in every pound over three ounces of protein, more than in most meats. It is a cheap food as well as an energy giving food.

Cottage cheese alone is an appetizing and nutritious dish. It may be served with sweet or sour cream, and some people add a little sugar or chives, chopped onion or caraway seed.

Cottage cheese because of its protein content is a body building material. It does not contain much fat, but by the addition of cream when serving it its energy giving value is greatly increased.

WILL EXEMPT CANNERIES FROM LAW

MAY WORK ANY NUMBER OF HOURS

Willson & Sylvester Mill Co.

Have Secured an Investigation of the Probable Effect of the Eight Hour Law on Their Business.

Governor Strong has been practically directed by the administration to suspend the 8-hour law as far as it affects the canning industry. Yesterday Secretary of War Baker, chairman of the Council of National Defense, sent the following wire:

Washington, D. C.
Dec. 7, 1917.

Hon. J. F. A. Strong,
Governor of Alaska,
Juneau, Alaska.

It is our belief that the unusual demands made upon this country to not only maintain but to increase by every legitimate means in its power the supply of food, which is vital to the successful conduct of the war; and believing that the enforcement of the 8-hour law passed by the last territorial legislature, and which appears in chapter fifty five of the session laws of 1917, would either materially increase the cost or decrease the output of canned salmon, a most essential article of diet for our army, our navy, our civilian population and our allies, we would therefore request that you exercise the authority vested in you by section three of the act and suspend its operation, in so far as the salmon industry is concerned for the period of the war, as a necessary war measure, and we trust that we may receive early advice of your favorable consideration.

COUNCIL OF NATIONAL DEFENSE,
By NEWTON D. BAKER,
Chairman.

In the meantime the Wrangell sawmill has secured an investigation of the probable effects of the law and the following telegram reached Governor Strong yesterday:

Washington, D. C.,
Dec. 4, 1917.

Governor Strong,
Juneau, Alaska.

The Willson & Sylvester Mill Company, Incorporated, at Wrangell, Alaska has requested the Secretary of the Interior to act under section three of the Territorial act of May 3, 1917, regulating the hours of employment of wage and salary earners in Alaska, to suspend the operation thereof, alleging that enforcement will necessitate discontinuance of business under present conditions. Take up matter with company, ascertain facts and submit your recommendation on application.

MEYER,
Asst. to the Secretary.

The only other protest against the eight hour law that has come to light is from mining interests at Fairbanks.

A PATRIOTIC ENTERTAINMENT

The patriotic entertainment and social at St. Philip's gymnasium Thursday evening for the benefit of the army commission was well attended and was a success financially.

There was not a "tightwad" in the audience, but if there had been he would have been hard hit by "Uncle Skin Flint's Christmas" in which a wealthy old bachelor was trying to decide upon a suitable Christmas present for his favorite niece. For awhile it looked as if he was going to decide upon a thousand dollar piano, but after a soliloquy along philosophical lines he finally decided to make the young lady happy on Christmas morning by presenting her with a 15-cent egg beater. Uncle Skin Flint was impersonated by Vernon Myers.

A song by three little girls who represented themselves as just imported from Japan was a most pleasing number. The little girls were dressed in Japanese costumes and sustained their parts well. The three little girls from the Flowery Kingdom were: Dorothy Johnson, Erma Grant, Marjorie Johnson.

The Marseillaise, sung by Mrs. W. H. Warren, received an enthusiastic encore, to which she responded with a pleasing number.

Then came the play "Somewhere in France."

Time: Near the close of 1917.

Place: France.

SYNOPSIS

When the curtain rises one looks in on a French home from which two brave sons have gone never to return and a third son has been wounded. The father of the household is becoming disconsolate over the non arrival of the Americans. There are many touching scenes, and finally the household is made aware that the Americans are already in France. In this play the romance comes in very prettily when an American Red Cross nurse restores eyesight to the wounded hero.

The cast was as follows:

Pierre Gaudet..... Marion Myers
Madame Gaudet..... Gussie Leonard
Jean, their son..... Alfred Royalty
Nanon, their daughter.....

Ruth Lindman
Lisette..... Theodosia Royalty
Mary Dale, an American Red Cross nurse..... Edna Sinclair
Dr. Montaine, a surgeon.....

Neil Grant
Following the play Miss Grace Wigg sang "America, Here's My Boy," which made a hit. Responding to the encore Miss Wigg sang "Over There," which was also heartily applauded.

The last number was a song "There Are Many Flags" which was sung by the young people.

The program was interspersed with patriotic songs such as the Star Spangled Banner and the Battle Hymn of the Republic. The singing was led by Dr. Bulkley with Miss Grace Wigg at the piano.

At the conclusion of the program a Hoover lunch was served which proved very popular.

Although an integral part of the one system, each branch has had assigned to it the full amount of Capital required by the Territorial Banking Board for the establishment of a Bank in such a location. Each branch is therefore equipped to serve its customers as fully as any independent bank, but with the added strength and resources of the entire institution to draw upon. Furthermore each is responsible to the Territorial Banking Board, is examined and supervised independently and renders its statement direct to the Board. The Bank of Alaska is therefore, because of its double supervision and safeguards, peculiarly "An Institution of Strength and Character."
